Don't Bottle It Up

The Don't Bottle It Up conference is an event being organised by the Rotary Clubs of Noosa, Noosa heads, Noosa Daybreak, Cooroy and Eumundi to explore ways of achieving lifelong mental fitness. Under the Rotarians 4 mental health banner, the five clubs have been collaborating for the past 18 months on activities that are designed to reinforce the overall message of reach out, speak up and don't suffer in silence.

The conference is the culmination of a three-tiered approach to the campaign, which included a promotional banner featuring the campaign's ambassador Rob Brough – a well known television identity on Queensland's sunshine Coast – and a free community music event held on Noosa River.

The conference, will be held on Wednesday, October 5th, 2022, at Noosa Springs Resort, will feature leading mental health speakers.

The keynote address will be given by Professor Jim Lagopoulos, from the world renowned Thompson Institute. Other speakers include Tony Dell, a former Australian Test cricketer and members of The Australian Rotary Health Foundation.

Ambassadors for the event include Olympian Lisa Curry and Wallabies captain Michael Hooper.
